NOTES FROM WASHINGTON
Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co. Secure the Exclusive Right to the Trade-mark or Label "W. A. S."—The Imitation thereof is Felony.
It is learned from Washington that the United States Patent Office has granted, under date of October 9th inst. to the famous house of Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co., the exclusive right to a label having the words "W. A. S." as applied to schnapps. This label has been used on the top of every bottle of the "Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" for many years past, but it is only now that the title has been registered. It is done for the better protection of the house and their customers, and the reporter who writes this article learns that Messrs Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co. intend to prosecute with the utmost severity of the law, all infringements upon their old established label. That schnapps has been upon the market for forty years past, and it is now sold and used in every part of the World. There is no other article of the kind that is worthy of being compared with it, so great is its merit. Its purity is absolute and invariable, and this is the basis upon which its wonderful and world-wide popularity has been built up. In the hands of medical men it has worked wonders—and in point of fact it is one of the most valuable adjuncts to the modern "materia medica" at present known to science.
Owing to the enormous demand for this article, unscrupulous parties have been led to imitate, and in future, purchasers would do well to see that the letters "W. A. S." are on the bottle. To imitate this label is felony.

THE NEWS BURSTS LIKE A BOMBSHELL.

London 27th—At yesterday's sitting of the Special Commission in the Royal Courts of Justice one of the witnesses in the Times's case against Mr. Parnell confessed that he had forged the two letters attributed up to the present to the Irish leader.

This unexpected revelation has caused a great sensation, and the comments of the press are very bitter.

HURRAH FROM BALTIMORE TO WASHINGTON.

Vienna, 27th—An inquest has been ordered on the body of Countess Wimpffer, supposed to have died suddenly of apoplexy. The Countess was the divorced wife of the celebrated Austrian General Wimpffen who fought in the battle of Solferino. It is feared that the Countess met with a violent death.

Fresh concessions will be granted to the Hungarian Diet, in order to remove all farther opposition to the Army Bill. Gahary moved in the Hungarian Lower House that in the examinations of one-year volunteers aspiring to ranks, the free use of the national language be allowed. Fejervary, Minister of War, replied that the Government would accept the amendment.

Several speakers then followed and declared that the Minister deserved the confidence of the country.

Last night's debate on the real merits of the Austro-German Alliance was a triumph for Minister Tisza and the chiefs of the Radical and Moderate parties.

Several deputies rose to applaud the treaty of alliance and congratulate the Minister on the part he played in making a favourable agreement with Germany.

The Politische Correspondenz denies the statement that the Government be disposed to allow the appointment of a Bulgarian political agent to Vienna.

Baltimore, 27th—The train bearing President Harrison to Washington arrived here in the afternoon.

An immense crowd received the new President at the station. Thousands upon thousands thronged all the bridges of the Pennsylvania Railroad. All along the route he was warmly welcomed.

WHAT CHILIANS THINK OF ARGENTINA.

Valparaiso 27th—The powerful cruiser La Esmeralda will leave for Atlantic ports in the beginning of March, with Rear Admiral Uribe, and Captain Goñi, on board. She will call at Montevideo and Rio, and will remain three months in the Atlantic, making surveys, studying harbors, and awaiting the arrival from England of the ironclad Cochrane which will be turned out of the English ship-yards completely new, with powerful engines and very heavy guns.

Chilians expect in October or November the new corvette Covadonga which is rapidly approaching completion in England. A sister-corvette of the Covadonga is being built in the French yards and will be christened Janequeo.

Besides these, two new cruisers, the Iquique and Serrano, equipped with all modern naval improvements, are also soon expected.

Last, not least, a tender has been accepted for the construction of the new ironclad Santiago.

La Epoca writes an editorial on the notorious Barraza toast. It states that here no importance was attached to it, as such conduct could not reflect the courtesy of a nation, nor its education. But the toast, it adds, reflects feelings that are rampant in the Argentine Republic, where some foolhardy hands are scattering the seed of dislike towards Chile for many years—a dislike that in excitable minds and in unguarded moments creeps out in spite of everything.

IN A FRENCH RAILWAY CARRIAGE.

Cannes, 21st January

From Paris to this place is 705 miles, and if you are disposed to make friends with the natives whom you meet in the railway carriages you may find the journey less tedious. Last Friday, coming from Avignon, we were in the same compartment with 4 Frenchmen and a lady of the same nationality. Two of the men were en route for Egypt and the Holy Land, the third was a man of Hebrew caste, and the fourth an officer with his coat splendidly wrought in braid. Our entry seemed to damp their spirits, for we travelled some miles without anyone saying a word. At last the ice was broken, and we formed an exceedingly pleasant party. Conversation turned on every imaginable subject, from the Pyramids to Holloway's pills. The elder of the two who were going to Egypt wore the ribbon of Legion of Honor, had passed some years in Spain, and owned a small estate in Normandy. He confessed that he had made Political Economy his particular study, and expressed a fear that in the 20th century the Chinese would overrun Christendom. He was a strong advocate of Protective tariffs, which his companions warmly applauded.

The Hebrew gentleman considered that the actual tariff was not sufficiently high, but he felt little sympathy with the agricultural classes, who allowed very often their crops to rot on the ground, from sheer laziness and then blamed the season. All were agreed on the existing depression of agricultural interests caused by the fall of prices, and quoted from their own experience instances of the reduced value of land. What appeared to me strange was that they agreed in saying the depression dated back 18 years, whereas in the United Kingdom it cannot be said to have begun 1875. One had a property in Normandy with 10 farms, held by tenants, who found themselves successively unable to pay their rents, varying from £100 to £200 per annum. But he was desirous to keep them in their farms, and offered them a reduction of 50 per cent, which had the desired effect.

This caused the conversation to turn on Ireland, which awakened their warmest sympathies. One of them apologized to me for saying what might seem hurtful to an Englishman, "that he considered England had pursued a wrong course for centuries and was still unwilling to admit her error." I assured him that he was quite right, and that being an Irishman, I felt grateful for the kindly feeling he had expressed towards my unfortunate and afflicted country. Agricultural depression was greater in Ireland than in France as there being no duties on foreign grain or foreign meat, and yet the landlords rarely offered more than 10 per cent reduction in rents, while the Plan of Campaign demanded 25 per cent all round, and hence, I said, the present deadly struggle which was covering many districts with ruined cabins and uncofed homesteads.

There was no evidence of unfriendly feeling towards England among my companions when Egypt was spoken of, although a year ago the most intense irritation existed on this subject. The Suez Canal was discussed, which naturally led to the Panama Canal, when they severely censured Lesseps for reckless expenditure. I ventured to say that "after all Lesseps had done more material benefit to mankind than any other man in the 19th century," and to this they assented, but adding that England and other countries had reaped more benefit by the Canal of Suez than France had done.

Gen. Boulanger was not spoken of. None of them liked him, but all thought he was likely to beat Mr Jacques in a canter. They stated that the betting in Paris was 4 to one in his favor. The officer considered it a great shame, and assured all of us that the army, as regarded the officers, was unanimously against the General, "though all the men were in his favor." It seemed to me that this was an extraordinary confession, and that in an hour of need the present Government would find the troops unwilling to fire on the Boulangists.

Long before this reaches you the fight between the Baker and the Brewer (M. Jacques) will have been decided. I have seen Punch's cartoon on the subject, in which the success of Boulanger is foreshadowed. Here in Cannes the demand for Boulanger portraits augurs the same issue. If he win, next Sunday, it is not likely that the Republic will survive many weeks. What next? That is by no means easy to predict.

THE BUENOS AYRES PREMIUM ON GOLD.

(From the "Statist")

This week the premium on gold at Buenos Ayres has been 54 per cent. For the benefit of those readers who are not versed in exchange matters, it may be well to explain that for some years specie payments have been suspended in the Argentine Republic, that paper has come to be regarded as the money of the country, and that gold is, to a large extent, a commodity, and bought and sold like other things, and its price, therefore, is measured in paper. It is said to be at a premium of 54 per cent, for example, just now. This means that 154 paper dollars exchange for 100 dollars in gold. In other words, two gold dollars are worth a little more than three paper dollars. In internal transactions the effect of this is not directly felt, but it forces itself very prominently on the attention in international transactions. An English industrial company, for example, working a railway, or telephone system, collects its revenues in paper, and, of course, pays all local expenses in paper also; but its profits it remits to London in gold. Let us assume that the profits amount to $154,000, which at par would be equal to £30,800, but when turned into gold purchase only $100,000 or £20,000 sterling; 10,800 pounds sterling has therefore to be written off as loss by exchange, or somewhat over one-third. The European purchaser of cedulas loses in the same way. The interest is payable in paper, and at the present rate of exchange, as we have just seen, 3 paper dollars are not quite worth 2 gold dollars; somewhat over ½ has, therefore, to be deducted from the nominal 6 or 8 per cent, payable on the cedulas. Lastly, the National, Provincial, and Municipal Governments, which have been borrowing with such light hearts in Europe lately, suffer heavily too. They collect their revenues in paper, and they have to pay the interest, except in the case of cedulas and the Hard Dollar Loan, in gold. In other words, for every 100 dollars they contract to pay as interest in Europe they have to raise from the tax and ratepayers 154 dollars. Consequently, at the present rate of exchange, the taxation necessary to pay the interest upon the foreign debts is more than 50 per cent larger than it nominally appears to be. The increase to the taxpayer, of course, is not as much as this, for the purchasing power of the paper dollar, of course, diminishes with the rise in the premium on gold. But it does not diminish anything like so rapidly, or in anything like the same proportion. That it does diminish is proved by the fact that both prices and wages rise. That it does not diminish proportionately or as quickly is proved by the fact that the rise in prices and wages is very much slower, especially the rise in wages. Therefore, a rise in the gold premium means an addition to the taxation of the country, if it continues for any considerable length of time.

The gold premium has fluctuated a good deal of late. From about 50 it went down gradually to about 37, and it has advanced more rapidly from that point up to 54. It appears likely at present that it will rise very much higher. The National and Provincial Banks have during the past few years largely increased the note circulation of the Republic, and the Free Banking Law, which enables the several provinces to start banks of issue of their own on condition that they lodge gold with the National Treasury, has still further inflated the circulation. The great increase in the volume of paper money naturally makes each note worth less than it was before. It is only another way of saying that it forces up the premium on gold. But as the National Government, for the reason pointed out above, is anxious to prevent a great rise in the gold premium, both the National and Provincial Banks some little time ago refused to pay out notes, and insisted upon paying instead some of the gold which had been lodged with them under the Free Banking Law. The result was serious stringency in the money market. As practically paper is the only money of the country, to contract the paper circulation was to lessen the supply of loanable capital in the market, and to run up rates against business men and speculators. So serious did the stringency become that the banks were afraid to pursue the policy any longer. And as soon as they arrested their course, the premium, which had declined to 37, bounded up to 54, as we have just been saying. It seems a fair inference from this that the banks will not venture soon again upon an attempt to reduce the gold premium. Speculation of all kinds, as the readers of the Statist are aware, has been rampant in the Republic for some years past. It has been wildest in land and houses, but it has been wild in everything. To corner the money market, therefore, might bring on a crash in which the banks would suffer like everybody else. As they found it dangerous to keep the premium down even as low as 37 per cent, they will hardly meddle with the matter in a hurry. If they do not, the constant increase of the note circulation by the establishment of the new provincial banks for which so much money was borrowed in London and upon the Continent last year, will force the premium higher and higher. It would surprise nobody, in fact, if the premium were to rise to 100 per cent—in other words, if one gold dollar exchanged for two paper dollars. If this happen, or anything like it, we shall be on the eve of a very serious crisis.

We do not mean, of course, that a great depreciation of the currency, which is what a high premium on gold signifies, necessarily must lead to a crash. The gold premium in Buenos Ayres three or four years ago was about 70, and yet the country has progressed very greatly. A mere rise of the gold premium, then, would not necessarily be a menace to the prosperity of the Republic. But the whole economic condition has changed within the last three or four years. The great expansion of the currency, the immense sums raised in Europe by the National, Provincial, and Municipal Governments, and by industrial companies of all kinds, the rapid extension of the area under cultivation, the over-construction of railways, and the very large immigration from Europe, have stimulated a wild speculation which has been raging for years. Unquestionably the progress of the country has been very great, but it has been accompanied by reckless speculation, and this speculation has been fed by the unwise legislation which has flooded the country with depreciated paper money. Every rise in prices—though it was really due, to a large extent, at all events, to the depreciation of the currency—has seemed to the people to be an increase in their wealth. They have been incited by it to speculate more and more. The price of land in particular has risen fabulously, so has that of houses, and so, indeed, has that of most articles. A speculation of this kind, however, cannot last for ever. A time comes when a settlement must be made, and then the hollowness of the bubble is discovered. A very serious blow has been given to the speculation already by the fact that the bringing out of new loans and companies in London has been checked. We doubt very much whether any Argentine loan, however powerfully backed, would be subscribed for by the public in London at present. Possibly the new Argentine issues rejected here may be floated in Paris, Berlin, and Amsterdam, but as we have recently pointed out again and again, the Governmental borrowings on European account will be very large this year. There can hardly be enough of uninvested capital upon the Continent to provide all the borrowing Continental Governments with the cash they require, to supply also the legitimate industrial requirements of the Continent, and at the same time to take up the new South American issues which will be offered. It seems reasonably probable, to say no more, that the refusal of London to take more Argentine paper will carry with it before long a similar refusal on the part of the Continent, and then the end of the speculation in the Argentine Republic will be at hand. If the Government avails itself of the gold locked up in the National and Provincial Banks to pay the interest upon its debts, discredit will add to the depreciation of the notes, for it will be made clear that no means exist of cashing the paper. If, on the other hand, to prevent a constant upward movement in the premium on gold, the metal is thrown upon the market, there will be a renewal of the stringency recently felt, and if it continues there will be a breakdown in speculation. In any case, when the National, Provincial and Municipal Governments can no longer pay the interest on their foreign debts out of new loans, they will have to raise the money by taxation. The rashness of the recent policy will then be made manifest, as will likewise the fact that too much capital has been sunk in enterprises which cannot pay for many years to come, and that prices have been inflated beyond all reason.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

THE BISMARCK DYNASTY.

THE COMING WAR.

GENERAL NEWS.

MR. O'BRIEN.

Jan. 30.

The politics of Europe are becoming decidedly interesting. The triumph of General Boulanger is less important in itself than the sand and mud it has stirred up and which we all know lay beneath an apparently calm surface. We have the authority of no less a person than Mr. Edward Stanhope, Lord Salisbury's Secretary for War, and who has access to "red boxes" and all the secrets of diplomacy, that "there was a thunder cloud hanging over Europe which so far as human judgment could form an opinion must sooner or later, and probably sooner than later—burst over Europe, bringing with it war and all its consequences, and a war of a far more horrible and ferocious discription, than any previously known in Europe".

I have no space to dilate upon this speech of Mr. Stanhope's coming so soon after Lord Wolseley's scream for conscription. The Adjudant General wants soldiers, and the Secretary for War wants ships, and it may be that the British Government, which seems to be an appendage of the central power in Berlin, is only imitating its master in his mode of begging for money. What Mr. Stanhope, in his "folly" as the Pall Mall Gazette would say, has thought proper to reveal we have all known so long that we have not thought it worth while to bleat out our notions even in private. Mr. Stanhope, who is an amiable gentleman, may have received his mot d'ordre from the prime minister, who is nudged by the German Ambassador, whose master has just told the Germans that for three years—that is since the fall of the Gladstone ministry—Germany has been "One with England." You will have seen that an attempt was made from Berlin to get at one of our leading evening papers, the St. James' Gazette, owned by a German. I observe that the Star is abusing the PALL MALL GAZETTE for its late Russian and reactionary tendencies. I am not going to trouble you with politics in this letter, I only want to show you the situation, which is the same in England as in France and Germany. The Star is anything but a Boulangist paper, but in London it represents a kind of Boulangism—a protest against "Wilsonism", against the regime of the well-to-do-, for in these days, neither in England nor on the Continent, is there what our fathers called an aristocracy. As the Floquet government has found out, there are but two parties in the civilized world, those of Capital and Labour. A few weeks hence Capitol will be installed in power in Washington, just as it reigns in Paris, London and Berlin. In the latter city it is supported by a cloud of bayonets. Lord Salisbury is too much of an Englishman to be attracted by their glitter, but his hatred of republics and popular governments makes him yearn towards them, and that is the 'alpha' and 'omega' of his foreign policy. He differs from Prince Bismarck in that he will not even use a French republic as a tool, and patriot as he is after the Elizabethan model, he would in his heart sooner see England German under a monarchy than independent as a democracy. We are now fighting German battles in England. The sensation of the hour is the article in the new number of the Contemporary Review on the "Bismarck Dynasty." It is supposed to be inspired by an "august personage" who cannot be other than the Empress Frederick. It repeats Mackenzie's accusation of murderous intentions on the part of Prince Bismarck, who was intriguing for the perpetuation of his "dynasty" by handing his power, decaying by age, to the care of his son Count Herbert. More than that, it holds up the Great Chancellor to the world in the light of a weak and vacillating character, who had not the courage to oppose the Emperor Frederick's dismissal of Count Puttkamer. And all this appears in a Tory paper this morning, the Standard, and is emphasised in a leading article. I send it all to you and must pass on to other matters. I must add that Count Herbert Bismarck is represented as a young man of doubtful morals and brutal manners, with the ordinary German idea of a woman as a "milch-cow". He and the present Emperor—corrupted by his military associates at Bonn—so much insulted the Prince of Wales, that the Prince when at Vienna avoided the Emperor, and in London and Berlin cuts all the personal friends of Count Herbert. Here is a family squabble on the eve of a "ferocious war".

Let me get on: Mr O'Brien, it seems, after escaping from the Court House at Carrick got into a jaunting car and drove ninety miles to Wexford where he embarked in a collier, landed at a small port in Glanmorganshire, stopped the night at the house of a priest, took the morning train to Manchester, and according to his appointment, addressed a great League meeting at that city last night, and afterwards delivered himself to the police. Verily Ireland and the Irish are a necessity to us. Without them we should be a poor, money-grubbing race without soul or poetry. O'Brien, I do not hesitate to say, has won the hearts of Englishmen of all parties by his pluck and daring, and by this escapade of his has given a harder cuffing to Balfour, and through him to the Coercionist Government, than they have yet received. Mr Sheehy is sentenced to three months, and is in Limerick jail.

The Daily Chronicle published a report of Captain John Page's paper on the Gran Chaco read at the last meeting of the Geographical Society at Burlington House Captain Page is of the Argentine Navy. The Daily Chronicle has a short leader on the subject which I send you, because it is well meant, but betrays not much real knowledge of "South America," that appears to be a synonym for the Gran Chaco. The Daily Chronicle is, however, quite as well informed as certain Irish Archbishops who look coldly on the gallant six hundred who sailed the other day from Limerick for the Argentine Republic. Archbishop Stiggins represents the River Plate to have been in 1848 the refuge of French and Italian revolutionists. I should like to have half an hour's conversation with his Grace. I happened to know some of the French refugees. Poor fellows, they taught philosophy and tuned pianos for a living. His Grace should be told that Montevideo was full of French (Basques) and Italians long before 1848. The Italians, instead of being revolutionists, were Neapolitans who were starved out of their own country by King Bomba. They made fortunes in the River Plate by selling oranges, and returned to their country. They have, as we all know, been replaced by a very different class from North Italy.

The Tunis prisoner turns out not to be Jack the Ripper. His name is not Gray, but Boxhall. He is a deserter from the Royal Rifle Brigade. Evidently a bad character. He has got three months for vagrancy. His allusions to Whitechapel were intended to create an interest in his career. One of the Muswell Hill burglars—Clarke—has made a complete confession. The result of it is that he and his two companions, Lyster and Burdett, attacked Mr. Atkins's house by mere chance. They were leading blackguards without any of the scientific pretensions in the art of burglary ascribed to them by a panic stricken press and public. Mr. Atkins, the wounded gentleman, has had one of the balls extracted, but he is still in a precarious state.

Mr. Blaine is to be Secretary of State in General Harrison's Cabinet. Mr. Allison, a protectionist lawyer, and Mr. Wanamaker, a Philadelphia merchant, will join. The policy of the new Cabinet is to be strongly protectionist. General Harrison's term of office may be signalised by great events arising from social difficulties at home, and entanglements abroad.

I do not often trouble myself with the "Trade and Finance" column in the Daily News, but its last is worth reading, as the writer fairly attacks the Bank of England as a joint stock concern, and therefore, having interests opposed to the public, it represents as a State Bank. The News, oppressed with the notion that the Bank has somehow to squeeze a 10 per cent dividend out of its capital of 14 millions, and, therefore, cannot freely assist the public in emergencies, seems to suggest that there should be a government banking as well as issue department.

THE LATE CROWN PRINCE RUDOLPH.

SUICIDE OF A BARONESS AT MEYERLING.

THE SCENE IN THE MORTUARY CHAMBER.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News telegraphed last night:—

A great sensation has been caused here by the death of a beautiful young lady, a baroness. Although the event occurred during Tuesday night (the night of the Crown Prince's death), it was not known until to-day. The young victim took poison, but not in her father's house, nor in Vienna, but at Meyerling, where the Crown Prince committed suicide. The two acts seem to have been almost simultaneous.

One story (says the Berlin correspondent of the same paper) is that the Crown Prince was deeply in love with a young unmarried lady of the aristocracy, and that his love was returned, that stormy scenes ensued between the Crown Prince and his parents, and also an interview between the Prince and two relations of the lady, and that he considered death as the only way of escape consistent with honour.

THE LYING IN STATE.

Since eight o'clock this morning (the hour at which the Court Chapel where the Crown Prince's remains are lying in State was opened to the public) the streets leading to the sacred edifice have been thronged by a constant stream of people who maintain a most orderly demeanor. Among the numerous floral offerings which have arrived to be placed upon the coffin are wreaths from Queen Victoria, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and Princess Beatrice.

ON THE WAY TO THE DEATH CHAMBER.

The Times correspondent was among those who had the melancholy privilege of admission. He writes:—I went soon after eleven, and the small party which I had joined, entering at a door usually opened only for great Court festivities, were conducted up the deserted grand staircase and through long suites of splendid empty rooms to the late Prince's apartments. We reached the Prince's dining-room and there sat an officer at a small table in a window embrasure taking down the names of visitors. A great number of wreaths were lying on the floor here, with streamers of different colours bearing inscriptions in gilt letters. But the next chamber, the Prince's drawing-room, was literally carpeted with wreaths and bouquets. The most noticeable thing in this room was a life-size portrait, standing on an easel, of the Empress Elisabeth, in ball dress, a beautiful picture of a lovely woman. A few steps more and we stood in the Crown Prince's study, facing his corpse.

WITH THE DEAD PRINCE.

The Crown Prince lay in a deep black coffin, with gilt ornaments. He was wearing the white coat and red trousers of an Austrian Lieutenant-Field-Marshal; round his neck hung the red riband and gold pendant of the Golden Fleece, and on his breast was the star of the Order of St. Stephen, with its green and red cordon. To those who knew the Prince before he had shaved off his beard his face seemed wondrously changed, that is, smaller, and, one might almost say, fiercer, for the moustache, instead of lying smooth on the lip, had been combed out into two bristling bushes, in Hungarian fashion. A black riband had been tied round the head and the chin to keep the mouth closed. A lock of hair had been brought over the brow, to conceal a wound in the right temple, and the overhanging brauch of a palm tree, which had been cleverly arranged so as to touch the forehead, ministered to the same kindly purpose.

"DO NOT DISTURB HIM."

Two large tapers, set in enormous silver candlesticks, burnt on either side of the coffin, and at the foot a surpliced priest was kneeling on a footstool praying. An elderly nun, in a black robe and white cap, walked softly about like a nurse in the room of a sick child, and glanced wistfully at visitors with a look that seemed to say, "Do not disturb him." It was infinitely pitiful. The young Prince lay motionless, and yet with an expression so different from the placidity of rest. Undeniably there was a look of pain and trouble on the features, and all this again recalled the sick room rather than the grave. Among the many wreaths round the Prince's coffin one of the most conspicious was from his old nurse, the streamers of which bore the words, "From your dear Vovo." A white wreath from the Prince and Princess of Wales was deposited during the morning by General Keith Fraser, the British Military Attaché.

MORE OF THE PRINCE'S SINGULAR SAYINGS.

Count Stephen Karolyi, who after two days sojourn in Vienna has returned to Pesth, has, says the Daily News correspondent, given the following interesting particulars of the Crown Prince's last day. He says:—There are many persons to whom the Crown Prince has in the course of the last month made remarks such as these: "I shall not live long." "Mark what I say, my life will be brief." "Oh, I shall be dead long before that happens." In one case, when the conversation had turned on death and the fear of it, he said, "There is nothing fearful in death, but dying is horrible." Many persons now recollect that he spoke words in which he tried to make good some bad impression that might have been produced. Early in the autumn Count Karolyi was asked by the Crown Prince to order a life-size portrait of himself in his uniform of General from the Hungarian painter Jules Benczur. It was finished about the middle of December, and was completely to his liking. On Christmas Eve the portrait was sent to Count Karolyi's house, with a note containing these words: "As you sometimes gaze upon this picture remember your faithful Rudolph."

A SINGULAR SUGGESTION.

The London correspondent of the Sheffield Telegraph writes:—To-day intelligence tending to confirm the view I mentioned yesterday as being held in some quarters in regard to the reason for Prince Rudolph's suicide has arrived in London from Vienna. There is but little doubt that Prince Rudolph destroyed himself in order to spite his wife. By his death, all her prospects are ruined. She can never be Empress, nor can she ever be the mother of Kings. The act was the act of a madman all the same; but it was not the act of a man urged on by an unintelligent impulse. I have no wish to dwell unduly on this painful subject, but it is felt that even the frank publication of the facts of the Prince's death leaves a good deal to be explained.

Railway Items.

THE POST OFFICE AND THE RAILWAYS—CIRCULAR TO THE MANAGERS OF THE LINES. MISSCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Dr. Ramon Carcano, the indefatigable and much maligned Post-master General, began a mild campaign some time ago against the Railways, which in the way of carrying the mail-bags are sad sinners. Dr. Carcano wrote a few days ago to Dr. Araoz about this question and yesterday the chairman of the National Railway Board sent a a note to the Post-master General advising that a circular had been sent to the railway managers calling their attention to the necessity of affording proper accomodation for the mail-bags. This circular must have been received by the managers yesterday morning. It is couched in mild terms, but recalcitrants beware. The public and the Post-office will stand no nonsense, and the birch of correction will be swiftly and zealously applied by the National Railway Bureau.

Our exchanges from La Plata yesterday state that for the moment it is impossible to run the Railway into the Produce Market, owing to the difficulties put in the way by certain landowners. The Provincial Railway Board have, we believe, applied to the Tribunals for authority to expropriate, but as nothing yet has been arrived at, the market is left without the much desired extension of the Riachuelo branch. The law's delays are so terrible in every country, and particularly here, that the defendants may carry on the suit for months. If we add to this, that property riseses in value every year, we may say every day, we cannot but pity the Board, who will be compelled to pay exorbitantly for the requisite lands.

We see by our London exchanges dated February 2nd, that railway securities had fluctuated considerably on the market during the fortnight. Ensenada, Northern, and Pacific rose in booming fashion, while Great Southern and Central Argentine tumbled. The latter fell 11 points in one day. It is impossible at this distance to trace the causes of these violent fluctuations in a usually quiet market.

Mr. T Urquhart, Locomotive Superintendent of the Grazi and Tsaritsn Railway in South-East Russia, gave a lecture recently in London on "The Use of Petroleum Refuse as Fuel in Locomotive Engines," which has been carried out to an unprecedented extent on the line under his charge, on which 143 locomotives, besides fifty stationary boilers, are fired with this fuel. He said:—Petroleum refuse is, in fact, now used in that district for all steam generating purposes, to the complete exclusion of solid fuel; except a small quantity of wood for starting the fibres in horizontal boilers of pumping engines. For all metallurgical operations also at the central works at Borisoglebak petroleum is used as fuel. The spray injector is the mode in which it is applied, the air jets being regulated to ensure complete combustion.

TIGRE BOAT CLUB.

To the Editor of the Standard

Dear Sir

May I ask through the columns of your widely read paper what has become of the "Tigre Boat Club", started apparently to meet a want and with such momentary success? Has the spark of enthusiasm been allowed to smoulder, and are we to weep over its dying embers? Nothing has been seen or heard of the proposed Club now for months, and I presume it may be considered "hors de combat", and would-be members entitled to their paid up subscription and entrance fee as not necessary, and the field open for a fresh enterprise This is surely an unhappy state of affairs; are we utterly powerless to bring a boating club to the scratch; can it be that we are also too busily engaged in workshipping the golden egg, to give this plausible scheme a little attention?

May I also ask what has become of some boats ordered in England for the Club and said months ago to be on their way out? Are they also left to the tender mercies of "whom it may concern", and to whose expense are they to fall if the proposed Club fails to survive; or do we still live in hopes of timely aid?

Thanking you for a small space for these interesting questions.

I am, dear Sir,

A Tigre Boating Man.

EDITORS TABLE.

The Health officer at the Riachuelo declares that the strict quarantine imposed by the Health Board on vessels from Brazil is the purest moonshine, and mentions a smack named the Santa Cruz that has frequently communicated with the steamer Lafayette, and even taken persons from on board. There is nothing very new in this intelligence. Quarantine is a useless farce.

The grand marble Christ for the Recoleta Cemetery has arrived, and the Minister of Finance has been pleased not to charge import duty on it, which is very kind of him.

Here's what a London society paper is unkind enough to say about the Coming Man in France whom Premier Tirard thinks he can tackle:—"One who has known General Boulanger in his private life says he is neither jeune nor beau but a worn-out old fellow of fifty-six who has his grey hair and beard carefully dyed dark brown, and who uses perfumes and pomades like any coquette. At home he is often in bed for days together with feet bandaged and body wrapped up in layers of flannel, in order to get rid of his gout. And when he appears in the streets he minces his steps like a youth of eighteen who wears his top hat for the first time."

Some young scamps in Moron collected all the frogs they could find in that rather froggy locality the other night and set them loose on the platform of the station while all the beauty and fashion of the place were taking their evening saunter thereon. The panic that ensued amongst the ladies was very painful to witness, and many of them went into violent hysterics. The young cubs who perpetrated this trick ought to have been locked up for a week, without option of fine.

There was a bit of a scare in Ensenada the other day owing to a report that the corpses thrown overboard from the Atrato had been cast on the beach there. It is quite possible, as the weights were probably attached with ropes instead of chains, and the fishes gnawed the former through.

An electrician in Rosario, while handling some of his paraphernalia incautiously, received a shock that tossed him heels over head on the floor, and one of his hands was very severely burned.

The Rev. Dr. Smith, A.M., will preach on Sunday evening next, at 7 p.m., in the Scotch Church, Calle Santa Domingo, Barracas; and on Sunday week at noon, at the Livingstone Estancia, Lobos district.

The terrific squeeze in the Immigration line caused by the enormous arrivals from Europe (1,000 souls a day) this month has induced the revival of an old and excellent idea of our distinguished colleague Dr. Davila, viz., that 300 squares should be expropriated near Lanus, and a Park formed there, in the centre of which a spacious Immigrants' Hotel could be erected. As something must be done to avoid the shocking straits to which the Irish, Belgian and Cadiz families have been put to in the past month, it is to be hoped that this or some other practical scheme will at once be put in execution, to save the country's reputation abroad. It is better for all reasons to have the Immigrants' Hotel outside town in pure country air. The horrid hole in the Retiro is only fit to be burned down.

With a grateful tear in one eye we received yesterday a beautiful plan of the new bathing resort, Necochea, with a woodcut of the Liverpool Hotel there on the top. (It looks like the Royal Barracks, Dublin.) We had no idea that Necochea could boast of such a hotel. It has also a ball-alley and several other appurtenances of the highest civilization. "Bien por Necochea!"

Land at Tres Arroyos is soaring higher even than in learned Cordoba. Five hundred nats is now gratefully paid for a solar that nobody would give 35 for a short time back. What miracles plenty of paper money can work—in and on paper.

The pick of the CAMP

Soil and situation unexceptional, most interesting affair, tremendous future, 8 hours from the Capital, return the same day.

In Zarate In Zarate In Zarate

The best camp in the North comprising the beautiful pleasure and productive mansion, belonging to Sr. Miguel Lima, the sale of which is caused by this gentleman's absence in Europe; it is sufficient to announce the situation and ownership of the camp to give an ample idea of its value. Fattening camp with very abundant soft grass like gramillo, cardo azual, alfilerillo, trebol de carretilla and olor.

To give an idea of the quality of the soil, suffice it to say that, when there is no pasturage on the adjoining camps, in this there are fattening 1700 steers and 600 sheep, paying a dollar a head for cattleand 4 cts for sheep. This splendid camp of 1233 hectares, distant a league and a half from the Estacion Lima, F. C. Rosario and 30 squares from the village chacras and the Colonia Lima, bordering for some distance on the river Areco which joins the Barradero a few squares off and the Barradero joins the Parana.

All this superb camp is perfectly fenced with 6 strings of steel posts and half posts of guandubuy every 5 varas and wiring in the centre. Divided into 4 potreros, each with a large trough, water deposit, cement trough etc.

In one potrero there are 100 hectares of alfalfa, 700 fruit and forest trees, eucalyptus magnolia, palms, gardens, etc. In a word, it is an Eden!

Attention, speculators and capitalists! Prepare for a surprise! Up to the present time there has never been such an important business with such an insignificant base. Base $325 the hectare. Absolute sale! We repeat that Sr. Lima is going to Europe. Remember that in the Salado, lalanda have been sold at $200 per hectare and $300 to 450 have been given for Centros Agricolas.

Recently in Pilar 150 cuadras of camp have sold for $1000. This notable business has 150,000 cedulas, series M. Comparatively, therefore, it can be had with little money. On the basis fixed, the purchaser can remain with the mortgage for the price of the cedulas, the day of the contract. The payment to be made half down and half at 4 months with 8 per cent per annum.

For plans and further prticulars apply at our office 153 San Martin. Those who desire to visit the camp will meet at the Lima station on the arrival of the first train a carriage which is at their disposition on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays. The auction will take place in our office San Martin 153 on Thursday 14th March 1889 at 3 p.m.

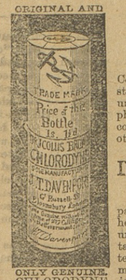
Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.



ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

CHLORODYNE This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests these too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout Cancer Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemist, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esqr., 22, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from the sale, we have in our sojourn here will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"We strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

In spite of anticipations generally entertained that the worst of the bearish "corner" was past, there was such a demand for gold to-day that prices again began to soar, bringing on another species of demi-panic amongst the gutter-snipes and outsiders, who have been selling freely during the last few days for end of March. Matters look very blue, indeed, now for the bears, and, sad to relate, the "corner" is still, to all appearances, very large. Gold closed at the first hour at 157.30, but after the close of the ring heavy amounts changed hands at 158, and it would be now no surprise at all to the market to find the quotation at 160 before the settlement is done with. As for National Bank Shares, there seems to be a bullish "corner" in this valuable stock, which it is quite apparent is heavily overbought and has been carried on borrowed money for months past. It was believed that there would be a reaction during the month, but even the increased dividend was powerless to effect a semblance of "boom," and now the reaction is said to be postponed till next month, and so the process drags out its expansive length, the unfortunate bulls having to face serious differences and pay 2½ p.c. monthly passes. This is far too much to be of long continuance, and, unless the promised reaction comes soon, it will come too late to avert very heavy losses, and perhaps individual disaster.

Business at the first hour in gold embraced about 4 millions, of which relatively small amounts were required for cash and Saturday, the bulk being divided between end of month and end of March. For former date 1,530,000 were disposed of, opening at 156.80, spurting up to 157.40, fluctuating round that rate for some time, and finally closing at 157.50. For end of March 1,940,000 were banged away and taken up at an average difference of half a point for the month; the quotation opened at 156.30, rose to 157.10, fluctuated between that rate and 156.80, and finally closed at 157. Cedulas were in fair demand at sustained rates. National Bank Shares declined to 257.50 for end of month, but at the last moment reacted to 259, and to 262 for end of March. The other stocks ruled at the normal rates without any very notable animation or demand. The Obligations were quoted at 15.

The following item, which is from an article in Money, on Colonial stocks is particularly to the point just now, coming as it does on the heels of the news of the Argentine Conversion 4½ p.c. Loan having been issued at 99 p.c. Victoria 3½ p.c. Loan at 103 3/10 p.c. and Argentine 4½ p.c. Loan at 99 p.c. bespeak a difference in financial standing which the natural preeminence of Argentina over Australia only renders all the more accentuated. The following is the cuttidg:—

"One of the events of the week is the successful issue of the Victoria Government Loan, the average price obtained for which was £103 6s. This is the first time that Victoria has attempted to borrow at 3½ p.c., though Canada, New South Wales and Queensland have all been able to borrow at that rate. The success of the new loan has amply justified the determination of the Victorian Government to fix the interest at so low a figure. Indeed, a still bolder step would probably have been attended by yet more gratifying results. We do not doubt that a 3 p.c. loan, well under par, would have found still more eager subscribers."

Advices from Chubut shew the splendid rate at which this distant colony is progressing, much of this progress being attributed to the exertions and clear-sighted policy of the Governor, Mr. Louis George Fontana, who seems undoubtedly to be the right man in the right place, as he holds in high estimation the indefatigable activity and unconquerable industry of his Welsh colonists. No less than 26 leagues of canal have been opened to irrigate the camps, while a dock has been constructed in the river, which is crossed by a wire bridge, all constructed by the colonists themselves. There are three flour-mills and a large number of machines for harvesting work, such as reapers, binders, thrashers, etc. More than 80 per cent. of the population can read and write, and educational wants are amply provided for. This shews what the labour of man well directed has done for an arid spot, once so irresponsive to labour that it was thought that the colonists would have to seek pastures new or succumb to famine.

A decree was issued this evening from the Finance Office, accepting Mr. Hector Quesada's resignation of the post of director on the Board of the National Mortgage Bank. The same decree appoints Mr. J. Herrera in his stead.

The statutes of the new workmen's association, the Cosmopolita, were approved to-day.

Mr. D. Salvatierra notified the Home Minister this morning that he accepts his appointment on the Board of the Riachuelo Works.

Messrs. Madero and Sons have written to the Government requesting to be informed if the Government would pay the cost of the next section cash down or in Port Works Debentures. The Government must decide on the mode of payment six months before the conclusion of each section.

Mr. Pirovano has advised the Government to throw out the project for constructing a bridge in combination with the Riachuelo Sipion.

The Minister of Finance gave orders to-day to pay to the Kemmerich factory 71,181 mps. on account of bounty on 4,315,434 kilos of preserved beef exported in 1888.

The Royal Mail s.s. Nova anchored this morning off Flores Island.

The business in gold at the second hour was on a mammoth scale, and such was the tension in prices that at one moment the rate stood stiff and hard at 158.50, and threatened to advance to 160, when fortunately a reaction set in, which took the rate back to 157.50, at which it fluctuated, and finally closed at 157.80. For end of next month the operation opened at 157.50, dropped to 156.50, and closed at 156.80. It is feared that in spite of the heavy heavy amounts disposed of to-day there is still much gold required for the liquidation. In stocks, National Bank Shares were decidedly weak, dropping to 257.50 for end of month, and only improving half a point. It was said that one well-known operator had let go during the month 20,000 shares on the market, and a very heavy drop is apprehended for to-morrow. The other shares were more or less firm.

Circulars were handed round to-day from the new firm of Surra y Cia., whose motto is "Labor vincit omnia." The sphere of operations of the firm is in importation of North American goods and exportation of produce.

The balance sheet report of the La Nacional, insurance company, was handed round to-day and shews very favorably indeed for this young and prosperous company. The profits amount to $85,955, out of which with most praiseworthy prudence the Board propose to considerably strengthen the reserve fund. The Report says that the business of the company had doubled on the year's working, although such was the prudence exercised in accepting risks that a very large number of applications were refused. The premiums paid amount to very little over 20 o/o of the year's receipts, a most satisfactory return.

The immigration returns for February, according to the eminent authority, Mr. Aristides Almeida, shew a total of 22,000, shewing an excess for this year as compared with same month last year of 9,434.

The Potosi's passengers were out of quarantine yesterday, and the Equateur's to-day.

An important sale of house property was reported to-day, being sale of Calle Cordoba No. 3384 5398, 60.80 metres frontage by 121.31 metres depth for 117,390 dollars, buyer, Mr. Aristobulo del Valle.

Messrs. Collet and Lhamic, well-known auctioneers, have effected the sale of 80,000 square yards at the Martinez station for 144,000 mp., or say at 1.80 mp. per square yard, buyers Messrs. F. Para and P. Ximenez.

Some lands in Ramos Mejia, near Dr. Marenco's quinta, about 5 squares west of the station were sold on Sunday in lots as follows: 14,500 yards at 55 cents to Dr. Delfin Gallo; 1,400 at 55 to Mr. Step. Baravan; 5,000 at 65 cents to Messrs. Casurang and 1250 at 55 to Mr. Stewart.

The sale is reported in the partido Ranchos of 600 squares at 35 dollars the square, buyer Coronel Julio S. Dantas. The upset price was 21 dollars.

We take the following from an article in the Live Stock Journal:—

"In addition to the broadly-developed export trade in frozen meats from the Antipodes, the River Plate business has been steadily growing, and as steadily improving in respect of the money and consuming value of the exported article. At first the sheep were all small Merinos, and the carcases were too thin to sell well; now, they are improving in a marked manner, through the systematic and persistent infusion of good blood from British flocks, which has been going on for years past for this sole purpose. From my point of view, this River Plate export trade, both from Buenos Aires and Montevideo, will soon compete sharply with that of Australia, and give even New Zealand shippers some cause for alarm. I have watched this country grow, growing, growing; and by the aid of the excellent steamship communication with Europe which it now enjoys, I look for large exports of breadstuffs and meat to Europe in the immediate future. The recently-issued Circular of the New Zealand Mercantile Agency Company remarks on this subject as follows:—"Secondary qualities of Colonial mutton had to contend against increased competition on the part of the River Plate—a feature especially felt at times in the provinces—for while shipments from New Zealand were barely up to the standard of recent years, those from the River Plate have year by year tended to improve in quality. The total shipments from the River Plate in 1888 amounted to some 908,689 carcases, as against 641,866 carcases in 1887; of this quantity 163,968 were consigned to London and 754,721 to Liverpool. The Falkland Islands, too, have commenced an export trade in frozen mutton to this country, 30,000 carcases having been received from that source in 1886, and 45,552 carcases in 1887. The mutton, however, did not sell very well, and the sheep there will have to be improved considerably before this trade can be established."
